To Whom It May Concern

My name is Annemarie Becker, my Sannyas name is Ma Puja Nartana. I am 27 years of age and a trained and qualified medical technical assistant. I came to Bhagwan by reading his books and took Sannyas in March 1982.

My attitude towards human beings has undergone a great change since I met Bhagwan. When one works for a long time in a laboratory, patients are all reduced to mere numbers. This brings an absolute lack of feeling in one's work. For instance, my colleagues and I used to have bets with one another trying to guess who would diagnose the most cases of cancer, or whose patients would die first. It was through Bhagwan that I came to respect life. I began to see the human body as a temple of God. Since I have been touched by Bhagwan's love, I see every living being as an expression of God's love. And as a result I have learned to respect every individual. This new awareness has made me see my own work in a new light: I now see my work as my contribution towards helping people to become healthy and not just as a routine job.

Bhagwan's vision of a human being as someone who is completely responsible for himself has become a spiritual background to my daily work and has changed the whole colour of my life.
