To Whom It May Concern:

I am a citizen of the United States, living and working in Boulder, Colorado. I am a psychologist by profession, and I hold an M.A. degree in psychology, and a Ph.D. in clinical psychology.

I first heard of Bagawan Rajneesh about ten years ago through his writings. I have never met the man, nor do I consider myself a "follower" of his teachings. I have read much of what he has written, and I have had contact with many of the people in his Centers, both in this country and abroad. Through this contact I have come to regard Bagawan Rajneesh as one of the most important teachers in the human potential movement, and as a religious teacher and spiritual guide of unusual power and wisdom. I have seen many people change in a distinctly positive direction, both in terms of mental health, and in terms of moral and spiritual health, from using his techniques, and following his teachings. He has helped many people all over the world in their efforts to grow as human beings. I consider Bagawan Rajneesh an asset to this country.

Yours sincerely,

Stephen L. Gorad Ph.D.
