To Whom It May Concern,

I am a Marriage Family Child Counselor. I have had a private practice in the Los Angeles and Beverly Hills area for many years. I do psychotherapy with individual, couples, and groups. I have also taught and lectured in many colleges.

I went to Poona, 3 years ago and I was deeply affected by my personal contact with Rajneesh. My personal life as well as my work changed. I saw the real beauty of who I was and who others were when we were encouraged to move from our own desires rather than those that had been imposed on us through the years. This deep coming home to who I was has allowed me to be far more effective in my work with clients, in awakening them and bringing them back to their true selves.

In more recent years I have been to the ranch to visit Rajneesh in silence. His silence is the greatest teacher of all to me. I feel a beautiful connection with myself when I am just sitting with him in silence. I find the inspiration and communication even stronger.

In my opinion, Bhagwan is the greatest spiritual teacher alive. He has a great ability to reach people internationally with his words and his silence, and he has been able to effectively synthesize the truth of all religions.

Sincerely,
Ms. Patricia A. Bisch M.A.
