To whom it may concern

Dear Sirs,

Having passed my final exams ("Gymnasium"), and having finished the military service, I started studying engineering; - in 1978 I got my degree: a B.A. in electrical engineering. After that, as a developing engineer, I was with the Robert Bosch Company for a couple of years: trying out and improving electrical automobile equipment was my main field of work.

It was in 1981 when I first read about and heard of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh. His insight, which finds good expression in his numerous books, many of which were also published in Germany, impressed me deeply.

After that I began to try out his techniques of meditation, and what I found was a considerable improvement of my ability to concentrate when trying to solve technical problems and a more relaxed relationship with my colleagues and the people I have to supervise.

Meanwhile I have given up my job and I have founded my own firm, which is part of a Rajneesh Meditation Center. My costumers and my fellow-men reacted with warm interest - to me and to Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh, who has meanwhile received worldwide reputation and fame. A acknowledge that Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh has extraordinary abilities and insight in the field of the guiding of poeple and shaping your place of work. I would advise you to read some of his books, which will surely prove an enrichment.

Yours sincerely
