

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

My legal name is Jean Sherlock Watt; nationality British.

I have a degree in graphic design, a Dip. Ed. which is the certificate of a one year post-graduate teacher training course, and a Masters Degree in Education - pending.

For ten years I worked as a teacher in several different British schools and during this time was involved in other projects such as research into progressive education, work in youth clubs, the probation service etc.

After ten years I decided upon a career change, and became the proprietor of a licenced restaurant. I began to experiment with alternative "growth" groups, such as Gestalt therapy groups and re-evaluation counselling. I also contacted Freudian analysis, Behaviourism and other forms of "growth" at the University of Birmingham.

In September 1981 I went to the ashram of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh in Poona, because I had heard that the two most powerful growth centres in the world were Poona, India, and Esalen, California. I choose for Poona because the growth programme there was the bigger.

In Poona I took sannyas from Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh, the most loving and remarkable human being I have ever met, and for the past 2½ years have lived continuously in Rajneesh communities in England and in Holland. Much has been written about communal living in the West in the past two decades. It only remains for me to say that I feel perfectly free and able to live and work alone or in a nuclear family unit (I have a nine year old son).

I choose, however, to live in Rajneesh communities, under the guidance and inspiration of Bhagwan and his work. I feel the growth and development of such communities as a invaluable contribution from Him.
