

Zürich, 16th July 1980

Dear Gentlemen

First I would like to introduce me. My name is Jan Barcikowski. I studied in Zürich, Switzerland, business and law.

I'm working now in the investment department of one of the biggest reinsurance companies of the world (Swiss Re), as a lawyer.

Specially at the court you see a lot of human tragedies (divorces, crimes) and you start to recognize how the people are taken prisoner by their imaginations. Because of these disappointed imaginations they start to fight each other and to destroy each other. So Bhagwan for example tries to make you conscious that you can have imaginations, but that you can not expect somebody to accomplish them. If you once understand that you see how important it is in life. Another thing Bhagwan tries to show is, that nature must be in harmony. All over the world the opposite is happening. Nature is already and gets destroyed. Even if they notice, that they are destroying their place of living, they don't care and go on irrespective of nature. In Oregon you can see, that you can live at a place and keep nature in harmony.

I got attentive to Bhagwan by a movie, that was shown in the cinemas of Switzerland.

After that I read few books of Bhagwan and got accosted of his deep comprehension of the human being. After having group experience in Bhagwan groups I have to confirm that.

Bhagwan is very popular not only in Switzerland because of his movie and a lot of reports in big newspapers (NZZ, STERN) and because of what he is. To understand that you have to study Bhagwan.

Yours faithfully

Basi'koshi