

Jun 21, 1983

To whom it may concern,

Love. That's what this letter is about. Therefore the difficulty in writing about it. The challenge: How to express what happens between a Master and disciple. How to describe the quality of life next to a man like Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh.

Simple everyday occurrences become opportunities to express the love generated from Bhagwan. Filing papers becomes an art in arrangement, paperwork a form of meditation, interactions with people a time to share joy. Seemingly inconsequential events generate a chance to feel the grace all around, the grace pouring from Bhagwan.

That He is here, with us now, is such a powerful catalyst for the growth here at Rajneeshpuram and within ourselves. Seeing Him drive by each day is a constant reminder and renewal of our love. Sitting with Him at Satsang and Darshan in silent communion; tears of joy and gratitude, silently drinking in His gifts. Such joy! So hard to describe yet so real.

Bhagwan is so precious. Let's keep Him in America. His contribution is so immense and our gratitude so much. We want to give Him the best.

His Blessings,
Ma Anand Nirup
Rajneeshpuram