To whom it may concern.

I am writing in support of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh concerning statements made to the effect: He is not a religious teacher because he is not in verbal communion with his disciples.

To introduce myself, I am a 25 year old self employed electrician living and working in Western Australia

After participating in extensive group therapy programmes and some time spent in a Buddhist retreat, I became a disciple of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh 18 months ago, some time after he had ceased to speak.

Bhagwan has enriched my life with unpeakable joy and happiness, such that I never felt before.

Bhagwan's message is love, something that cannot be spoken of, only experienced, and being in his presence is all I experience.

So much he is giving to so many people in this way, please give him your support too.

Thank-you
