

To whom it may concern,

I, MA DEVA SANGITAM, took Sanyas on 10/2/82 when my Master Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh was already in silence.

It was not the words he has spoken which inspired me to take Sanyas, but the silent beingness of the man beyond them, who expresses more in his presence than words can ever convey.

I have since come to know that the only true communication between a Master and Disciple is totally beyond words, but in ones attitude in the way one lives and feels. This I experienced in OREGON in Bhagwan's silent presence surrounded by his many thousand Disciples. Here I found that Bhagwan does not need to speak, his very presence speaks, and all within it are effected in such a way that changes their whole outlook on life.

All his words have been recorded, it is here where Bhagwan is at an advantage to Masters of the past, it is not necessary for him to again repeat himself.

Bhagwan did not come just to preach a gospel, but to transform man himself by his presence, which is of far more relevance.

I am sure this was also the purpose of Christ, who although has not spoken for 2000 yrs is still known to be a Master and felt in the hearts of many.

In Bhagwan's silence he is not any less a Master but indeed more, in his presence.

MA DEVA SANGITAM.
