TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

My name is Charlotte Lück, I'm 39 years old and right now I'm working as a psychologist. Before that I worked as a tracer for 12 years. Then I went back to school and finally I obtained the Diploma for Psychology.

During my summervacation in 1980 at the Mediterranean Sea I read the book "Ganz entspannt im Hier und Jetzt". The author is Jörg-Andrees Elten a former reporter of the famous german "STERN"-magazine who visited the Ashram of the Enlightened Master Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh in Poona (India) for an eyewitness account. I couldn't stop reading this book. I was very fascinated by the teachings and methods of Bhagwan and my only thought in mind was "This is it, that's what I want".

In the same year a new Bhagwan-Center was opened in Cologne. Often I went there to participate in the meditations created by Bhagwan and in groups under the leadership of therapists who were trained by him. In these groups and meditations I experienced a new energy never known before - I call it the Divine inside of my being which makes me happy and gives me the ability to love.

In August 1981 I took Sannyas in Cologne and in summer 1982 I saw Bhagwan for the very first time. I felt a strong energy surrounding him, it made me laughing and crying and gave me a deep feeling of religiousness and love, in spite of his silence and the fact that he never uttered a word to me. This feeling became even deeper when I saw him this year in Rajneeshpuram especially during the Satsang - the silent heart-to-heart-communion between the Master and his disciples. Therefore Bhagwan is the greatest religious teacher I know. He teaches religiousness and love and is able to give these feelings to thousands of people who come into contact with him.

In my work as a psychologist religiousness and love is very inspiring. It helps me to be open to the people I work with, to understand them and to accept them as they are.
