To Whom It May Concern:

I used to work as a film editor and production manager / assistant in both Australia and England. Being freelance, I was able to work on many different types of projects including feature films, documentaries and television programs and commercials. This brought me into contact with many people and places and allowed lots of creative expression, within the parameters of each job situation. Through travelling and meeting people, I also came across Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh's words and religion and immediately saw the complement to the world of competition and ambition in which I was immersed.

Now, after several years,

EXHIBIT "A-1996"

I am living at Rajneeshpuram and am totally involved in putting all my energy and creativity into the work that is happening here, the expression of a way of life that even encompasses the making of film and video programs. In fact, every facet of the world as it is lived normally is given expression here with one basic difference:

Rajneeshpuram and the Rajneeshite religion are based on really living the ideals that most of us found we had to drop to "get on" in the competitive world - particularly one such as films and television. We now do all the same things as people anywhere do, but coming from a place of love and understanding, that grow with each day. Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh has affirmed to me, to us all that the possibilities for life to be a co-operation, fulfilling experience are real and possible. Rajneeshpuram is a concrete example of this.

In closing, I would like to state as clearly and strongly as possible that this gift, this ability of Bhagwan's to give us back ourselves and our true creativity is the rarest thing in the world. Many people everywhere feel that there has to be something more than the 'rat race' and Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh has shown, is showing, that it is true. This is a gift of extraordinary perception and influence and should be valued as such. He is an asset and a light in the turmoil the world finds itself in today and I can only repeat my gratitude and urge the immediate recognition of Bhagwan as the exceptional man that he is.

Yours sincerely,
Ma Prem Christina.
