To Whom It May Concern:

I am 51 years old. Years ago I attended Brooklyn College, then the City College of New York.

I worked primarily as a journalist and magazine editor. Through all this, I never felt any joy in my studies or my work.

As a poet, I was invited to read on radio stations in New York, at colleges and many music and poetry centers.

It was not until I started hearing tapes of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh and reading His books, that my life started having a different flavor, in very specific ways. I feel so much more open to people just asking for a direction on the street. They walk away with a smile.

I am now a waitress, and in serving people I feel very loving to them, even when they are very demanding. I find myself not judging them, but rather recognizing that there is much pain in their lives, pain which I have known.

The presence of this most exceptional being, Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh, is allowing me to accept everyone exactly as they are. Simply doing this has made me a much more loving and open person.

I have met several of His disciples, and it is quite obvious to me that not only is He having a very positive effect on the world, but also His disciples as they live and travel around the world spread the love which He pours out.

I studied American History and Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh exemplifies what our founding fathers dreamed of.

It is very clear to me that His very presence affects me in everything I do.

Sincerely,
Gloria Kalerba
