2nd August, 1983.

I am a sanyasin, and my name is Ma Deva Darshan. My teacher is Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh. I took sanyas, in Perth, in the 26th August, 1981, two years ago.
I had never travelled to Poona, never heard and seen Bhagwan giving discourse; yet found in his writings, and the words I heard on tape, something I was seeking.
I felt the powerful energy of this man, when I visited Oregon in 1982 for the celebration. I sat in satsang and experienced the warmth and love that flowed from Bhagwan, and there was no need of words.
I experienced the peace, joy and contentment that filled me, in simply being able to sit, and feel the totality of a connection between, not only Bhagwan, but these other sanyasins around me.

I feel strongly that connection and communion will Bhagwan, in my day-to-day life, even so many miles from where he is now. His silence to me is a more beautiful and connective power, as my teacher, than hearing him say what are, after all, only words.
