To whom it May Concern,

Dear Sir,

I became a Sanyassin on the 10th of July of this year in Rajneeshpuram. That decision was made after four years of contact with sanyassins, socially, and his workers and colleagues in my business which is cabinet making and building. During that time I had read about half of Bhagwan's many books and attended workshops with his teachers in Australia.

All of Bhagwan's teachings to my mind, have already been transposed into those books, which are all available, and reasonably priced. His message, however, goes beyond the spoken and written word. That is why I personally felt it necessary to go to Oregon and experience this phenomenon of an enlightened Master and the work of his disciples.

Rajneeshpuram is an extraordinary place. It is irresistible in its energy and positive attitudes. This would not have occurred without Bhagwan's presence regardless of whether he speaks publically, or not. The spirituality of this new city is an active experience that is not easily describable in words. I hope that Bhagwan's status as a religious teacher and his presence in the U.S.A. is not jeopardized

yours Sincerely
Santosh Peter
