

To whom it may concern!

I have been a disciple (sannyasin) of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh since 30 november 1979, and it seems like a long flowering springtime. Bhagwan has in all this time been, and still is, guiding my way back to myself. He has opened my eyes to see the beauty of living life totally and to do what ever I do with love and awareness.

Now that He is in silence, His guidance has become even more intense with His very presence.

I'm living in a commune in Holland called Sadhana with many other sannyasins. Living in a Buddhafield is something unique. I feel a certain clarity, a peace rising in me just by being here. During daytime I work (which more feels like worshipping) in the printshop of an Insurance-compagny, and in this work I can see a change in me. More and more I can put my total energy into the work and it is giving me great fulfillment.

I went to Rajneeshpuram this summer and the summer before, and for that it's hard to find words. Being near Bhagwan, feeling His love, cleans my heart - my whole being, what more can I say?

Thank you for your attention!
